

The code behind Ninten's grand adventure

By P29

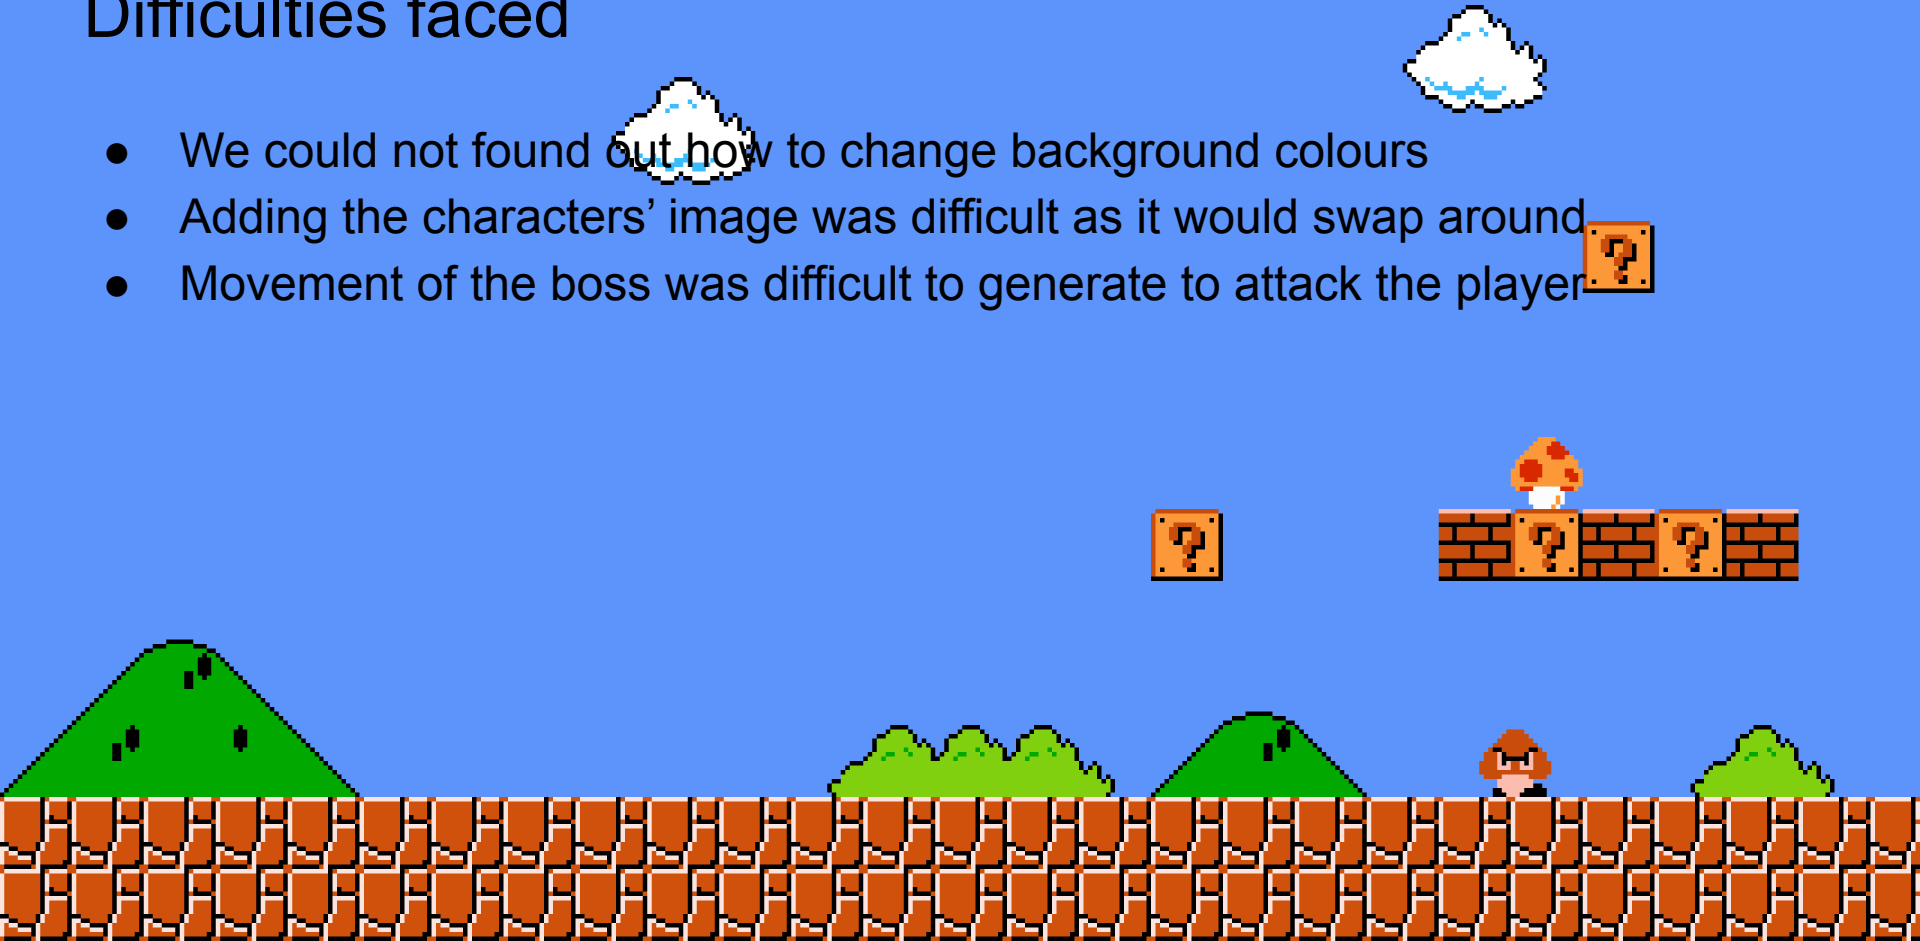

How the idea was developed

Most of us knew a lot about gaming. So we were influenced by Mario as it was one of the first games that went popular all over the world. So we decided to make a game similar to Mario as it was simple, interactive and fun. Since one of us loves nintendo.

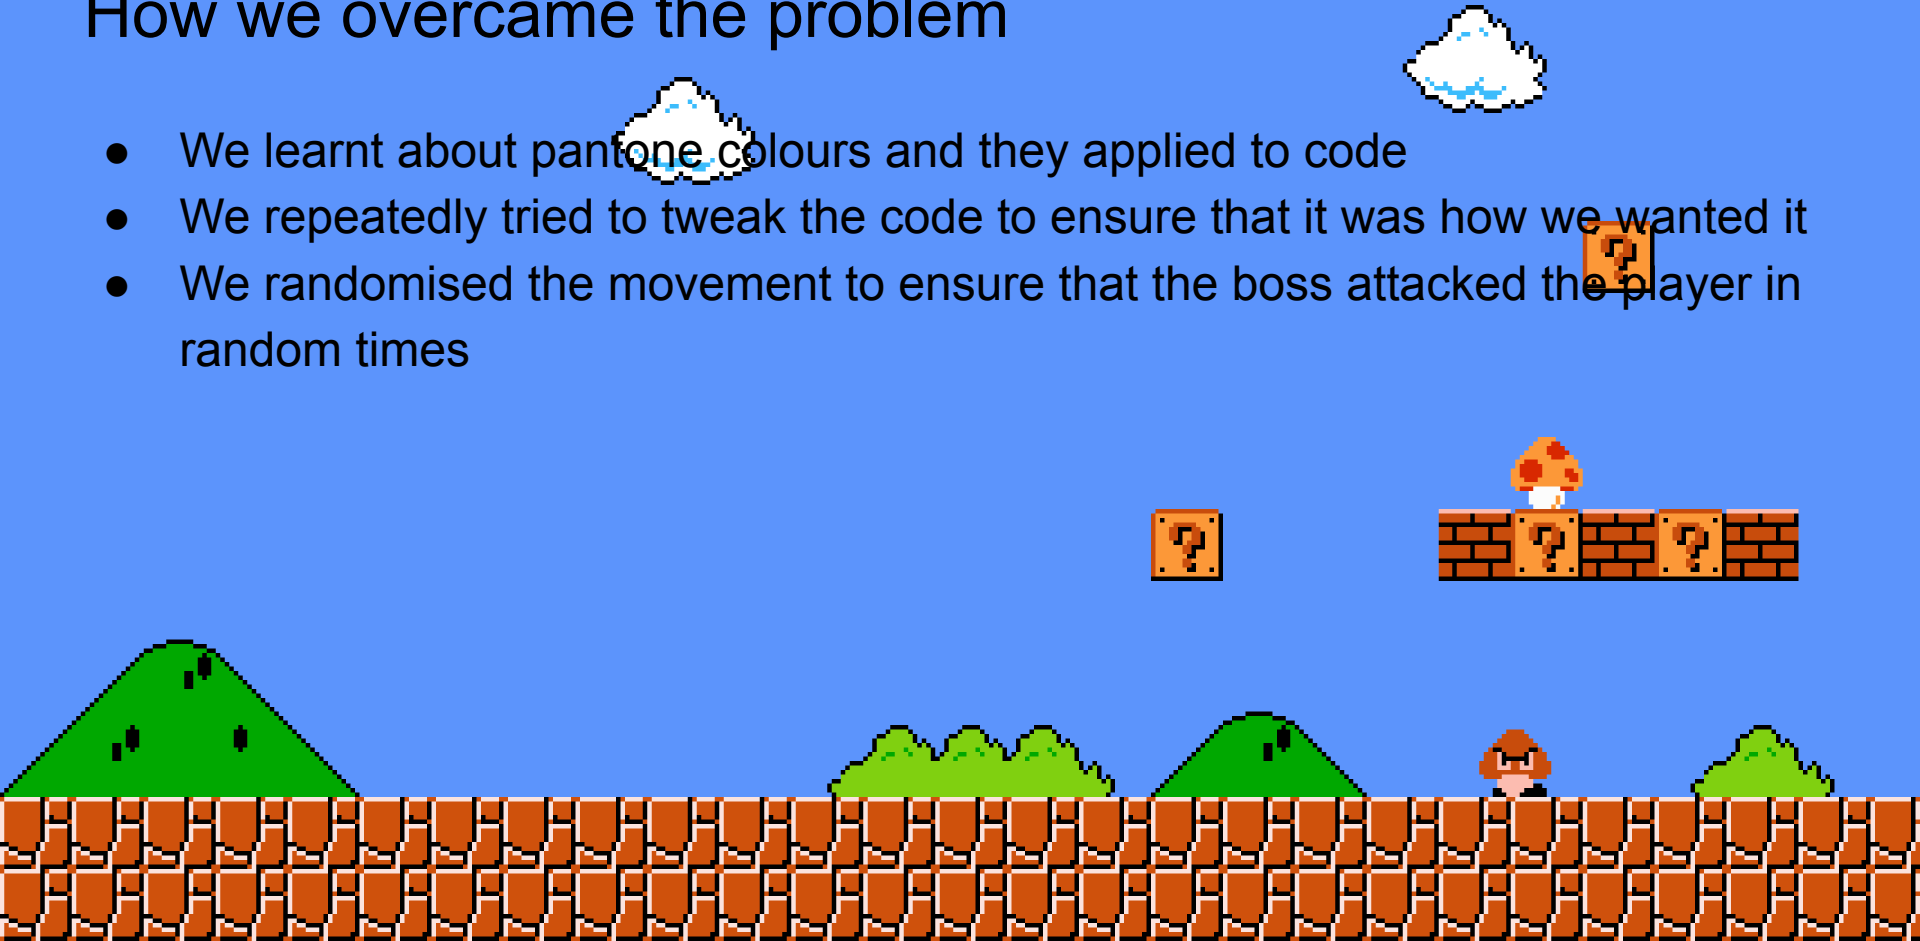

Difficulties faced

- We could not find out how to change background colours
- Adding the characters' image was difficult as it would swap around
- Movement of the boss was difficult to generate to attack the player

How we overcame the problem

- We learnt about pantone colours and they applied to code
- We repeatedly tried to tweak the code to ensure that it was how we wanted it
- We randomised the movement to ensure that the boss attacked the player in random times
